SINUA

design Mauro Lipparini - 2013

The sofa as a choice for comfort, for cosiness. The slightly linear language achieves a synthesis of permanent modernity. Sinua is a modular sofa which offers maximum customisation: in addition to selecting the modules to make up the desired composition, customers can choose from an extensive range of covers (fabrics and leathers) which can be mixed and matched in total freedom. Some modules in the range are also available with backrests of a different height. The metal feet are painted anthracite grey, white, dove-grey or matt amaranth.
